3. Types of Cookies We Use

Cookies can be "persistent" or "session" cookies. Persistent cookies remain on your personal computer or mobile device when you go offline, while session cookies are deleted as soon as you close your web browser.

We use both session and persistent cookies for the purposes set out below:

3.1 Essential Cookies

Type: Session Cookies

Administered by: Weymouth English Centre

These cookies are essential for the website to work and enable you to move around it and use its features. They help to authenticate users and prevent fraudulent use of user accounts. Without these cookies, the site would not perform as smoothly for you as we would like it to and we may not be able to provide certain services or features. These cookies also identify whether users have accepted the use of cookies on the website. Because these cookies are strictly necessary we do not need to ask for your consent to use them.

3.2 Preference Cookies

Type: Persistent Cookies

Administered by: Weymouth English Centre and Third Party

These cookies are used to remember your preferences or settings when you return to our website so that we can provide a more personalised experience.

3.3 Performance Cookies

Type: Persistent Cookies

Administered by: Weymouth English Centre and Third Party

These cookies collect information about how users use our website, such as which pages are visited and how often.

Some of these are analytics cookies, set using third party web analytics software, which allow us to monitor our website traffic. For example, we use Google Analytics cookies to help us do this and to improve our website. This information is anonymised and does not contain any personal data.

4. How to Give, Change or Withdraw Consent to the Use of Cookies

The first time you visit our website, you will see a notice about the use of cookies and you can set your preferences there.

After that you can click on 'cookies' at the bottom of each page on the website to change your settings.

5. Changes to this Policy

Christopher Hills, Director and Data Protection Officer is responsible for preparing and maintaining this policy. It is revised annually and whenever any of the information in the policy changes. It is always available on our website.
